

Director of Academic Success

School of Law

University of Massachusetts Dartmouth

The University of Massachusetts Dartmouth School of Law is seeking a Director of Academic Success. The Director collaborates in the design, direction, and implementation of all aspects of the Law School's Academic Success program. The Director promotes law student retention with programming and academic counseling and collaborates with Deans and Faculty to ensure students' successful completion of law school and bar exam passage.

UMass Law offers a robust Academic Success program designed to assist all students from orientation through bar passage. The program involves three full-time faculty and staff members (the Director of Teaching and Learning Methods, the Director of Academic Success, and the Director of Bar Success), a required first-year academic success course, a peer-tutoring program, and a spacious, centrally-located Law Learning Center.

For the complete position description and qualifications please go to <http://www.umassd.edu/hr/employmentopportunities/>.

To apply please submit a letter of interest, current resume and the contact information for three professional references to <http://www.umassd.edu/hr/employmentopportunities/>.

The review of applications will begin November 1, 2017, and continue until the position is filled.

UMass Law is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty and student body and encourages applications from members of underrepresented groups who will add diversity to the Law School Community.
