

Baylor University

Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally-ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For." The university is recruiting new faculty with a deep commitment to excellence in teaching, research and scholarship. Baylor seeks faculty who share in our aspiration to become a tier one research institution while strengthening our distinctive Christian mission as described in our strategic vision, Pro Futuris (<http://www.baylor.edu/profuturis/>). As the world's largest Baptist University, Baylor offers over 40 doctoral programs and has almost 17,000 students from all 50 states and more than 80 countries.

Baylor seeks to fill the following tenure-track faculty position within the School of Law:

Assistant Professor

Candidates should possess an earned doctorate in the appropriate field of study. You will be asked to provide a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; transcripts and a list of three references in the application process. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Responsibilities include teaching courses in the areas of federal income taxation (including application of tax principles to business transactions and entities), practice-oriented business entity topics, and transactional practice skills. Candidates must have substantial practical legal experience in the areas of business entities and tax law.

To learn more about the School of Law, and Baylor University, please visit <http://law.baylor.edu>. For more information about the position as well as application instructions, please visit www.baylor.edu/hr/facultypositions.

Baylor University is a private not-for-profit university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, Baylor is committed to compliance with all applicable anti-discrimination laws, including those regarding age, race, color, sex, national origin, marital status, pregnancy status, military service, genetic information, and disability. As a religious educational institution, Baylor is lawfully permitted to consider an applicant's religion as a selection criterion. Baylor encourages women, minorities, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply.