

Senior Counsel – Original Series

THE OPPORTUNITY

Netflix seeks an experienced attorney to handle a wide array of responsibilities related to the licensing, development, production, and distribution of Netflix's original content initiative. The successful candidate will work with the company's original content team to structure, negotiate and draft agreements primarily to license original series from a variety of studio and production partners and should be extremely comfortable counseling business partners and making decisions that have both legal and business impacts.

This is an opportunity to be part of a public, internationally expanding, company with a great consumer brand and to help Netflix shape the future of television. The legal team at Netflix is small and focused on collaborating with its business partners to help foster innovation.

REQUIREMENTS

The successful candidate will have at least seven (7) years of licensing and distribution experience in television or film, with direct experience drafting all forms of acquisition and licensing agreements. Familiarity with the development and production of scripted series, feature length documentaries, docu-series, and/or standup comedy programming is a plus.

The ideal candidate will have a broad understanding of television distribution (including digital distribution). Experience providing in-house support and managing outside counsel is strongly preferred.

The successful candidate will also possess the following:

- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills.
- Strong analytical capabilities and judgment.
- Ability to work proactively, independently and reliably under tight timeframes in a fast-paced environment.
- Ability to work effectively and collaboratively cross-functionally, think practically and be solution-oriented.
- Willingness to tackle matters outside area of expertise.
- Desire to work in a dynamic environment.
