Overview

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) is looking for the best and brightest to join our team. Our mission is to protect investors, maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets, and facilitate capital formation. A career with the SEC offers work that is exciting, challenging and rewarding. You can contribute to securities regulation and enforcement while making a positive difference for the American investing public.

Duties

- Serves as legal adviser for the SEC OIG in the conduct of audits and investigations involving highly sensitive programs, operations, and Commission actions.
- Develops legal positions and responds to questions on matters of law, procedure, or policy in pending or potential actions from OIG senior managers.
- Reviews comprehensive reports, memoranda or other documents relative to factual, procedural, policy or legal issues.
- Evaluates, or reviews extremely complex legal and factual issues in subject matter that may include fraud, false claims, criminal conflicts of interest, theft, violations of the federal regulations, compromises of securities information, and other violations of national security law for legal sufficiency.
- Presents, discusses, and defends the analysis of the policies, facts, and law involved in the action/case and argues in support of the particular recommendation being made with a view toward securing the advice or concurrence of the other interested parties and/or OIG senior staff.
- Responds to questions and inquiries on matters of law, procedure, or policy relative to the OIG program, policies, and/or ongoing actions/cases from agency staff, securities industry staff, legal staffs of the courts and law offices, other federal agencies, and the public.

Qualifications

- J.D. or LL.B. degree
- Active membership of the bar in good standing in any state, territory of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
