WHEREAS, if an official or agency of the state or a county, city, town, or political subdivision has a reasonable suspicion that the person is an alien who is unlawfully present in the U.S., the legislation requires that law enforcement make a reasonable attempt be made to determine the immigration status of the person during any legitimate contact;

WHEREAS, a reasonable suspicion is not constitutionally sufficient grounds to stop someone for a civil violation based on their immigration status;

WHEREAS, S.B. 1070's use of a "reasonable suspicion" standard is so arbitrary and capricious that it will result in racial profiling, an unjustified action based on skin color, general appearance, and language ability;
