

Jean G. Vidal-Font is a Member Attorney in our intellectual property practice and has belong to the Firm's Recruiting Committee for the past three (3) years. Jean directs the Firm's patent litigation practice and has an active transactional practice that includes procuring trademark applications before the USPTO and the Puerto Rico Trademark Office, privacy compliance and advisement, and negotiation of intellectual property licensing. Jean is a frequent speaker on intellectual property topics such as copyright, trademark, and trade secrets.

Prior to joining Ferraiuoli, Jean began his career as an Associate in the San Juan boutique law firm of José A. Cuevas-Segarra, concentrating in civil litigation. During that time, he worked on high profile cases such as the "Paseo Caribe" litigation before the Supreme Court of Puerto Rico, reported at San Geronimo Caribe Project Inc. v. ELA, et al, 2008 T.S.P.R. 129 and also served as an assistant editor for Dr. Cuevas Segarra's Treatise on Civil Procedure, Supplemental Edition. Jean was also an Associate at another San Juan firm where he worked on commercial litigation matters, trademark and copyright infringement as well as tort defense cases and helped to develop that firm's Intellectual Property practice.
